

REGIONAL TRAINING DAYS · A PILOT TO TEST

Their first EO trip could be their forum training.

Picture your newest member a month after joining. Instead of a three-person training in a conference room at home, they fly to another chapter's city. That night they are at dinner with new members from five chapters, and the trainer is at the table. The next day they train in a private room at one of the city's best restaurants, and they are on a flight home by early evening. One chapter hosts each quarter. Every chapter sends its new class.

EO US East, 21 chapters. Sample host cities in pink; any chapter can host.

WHAT NEW MEMBERS GET

- A first experience that says you matter. Their chapter flew them out.
- A real sense of how big EO is, and friends in other chapters who keep showing up at regional events.
- A weekend, if they want it. Friday trainings invite members to stay and explore.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON
Members fly in from their chapters.

THURSDAY NIGHT
Happy hour and dinner with the trainer. The host picks who else comes: board, a welcome committee, or everyone.

FRIDAY
Training day: a full day in a private room, wrapped by late afternoon.

FRIDAY EVENING
Fly home, or stay and make a weekend of it.

WHAT CHAPTERS GET

- A full training room. No $250-per-person fees for empty seats.
- Better rooms for less. Restaurant private rooms welcome a guaranteed breakfast, lunch, and dinner.
- Easier trainer scheduling. Less fighting over dates, and fewer trainers capped out before July 1.

COSTS AND BUDGET

The savings: trainings under six people cost a chapter $250 per person. A full regional room avoids it.

Venue	Dinner	Flights	Trainer	Upside
A local member's fancy restaurant. Invite the owner to dinner.	Host covers it, or $100 to $200 per member sent.	Each chapter flies its own members.	Travel split across chapters, or zero in the trainer's home city.	Open seats to other regions at about $500 each.

Run it as a pilot.

Test it this year. Ask the region for Forum, Membership, or Engagement funds to offset some of the costs.

*Prior data: a member who has visited an event outside their local chapter and is in forum has a 95% renewal rate. EO logo shown to demonstrate the concept; not an official EO product, just one member's suggestion.
